“Events like the Garden State Golf Classic highlight the power of community partnership and shared investment in the next generation,” said Patrick Linfors, Scout Executive of Scouting America’s Garden State Council. “Support from our sponsors and community leaders helps ensure more young people across South Jersey have access to transformative Scouting experiences that inspire confidence, leadership, and service.”

Participants enjoy an 18-hole championship course, along with a cart, player gifts, on-course refreshments, raffles, and contests including Closest to the Pin and Longest Drive. Luxury prizes are awarded to top teams and contest winners.

As Scouting America continues its mission of preparing young people for lives of impact and service, the Garden State Golf Classic serves as an opportunity for the community to come together in support of youth development across South Jersey.
